Our Story

We're a neighborhood ice cream shop where whimsical, childhood nostalgia meets thoughtful, locally-sourced ingredients. As a member of the beloved Rustic Canyon Family restaurant group, we're locally-owned and make nearly everything from scratch—marshmallows, chocolate chips, sauces, waffle cones, and so much more within our Brentwood Country Mart location's very, very small kitchen.

We're also an official "creamery," and the only independent ice cream shop in Los Angeles (that we know of) to have both this certification AND use ALL organic ingredients in the dairy base. Since we're only a couple miles away from the famous Santa Monica Farmers' Market, our ice cream flavors change monthly and with the micro-seasons. We advocate for our local farming community, don't use additives and chemicals, only use organic milk and eggs from California, and source from environmentally-responsible artisans and purveyors we can truly stand behind.

We have a variety of sweet options for your special event, whether it's a playful ice cream cake and ice cream sandwiches for a birthday, party packs for DIY sundae bars, or our team bringing a vintage cooler or ice cream cart to scoop ice cream for weddings, family reunions, company holiday parties and so much more!
